

Yankee Whalersmen

1. Farewell and adieu you fair Spanish ladies,
Farewell and adieu to you ladies of Spain,
For we've received orders to sail to New England,
And we hope in a short time to see you again.

We'll rant and we'll roar
Like true Yankee Whalersmen, We'll rant and we'll roar on deck and
below.

Until we sight Gayhead
Off old Martha's Vineyard
And straight up the channel to New Bedford we'll go.

2. We hove our our ship to with the wind from the sou'west, boys.
We hove our our ship to, deep soundings to take.
'Twas 45 fathoms with a light sandy bottom.
We squared our main yard and up channel did make.

We'll rant and we'll roar
Like true Yankee Whalersmen.
We'll rant and we'll roar on deck and
below.

Until we sight Gayhead
Off old Martha's Vineyard
And straight up the channel to New
Bedford we'll go.

3. I went to a dance one night in Tombaz.
There were plenty of girls there as fine as you wish.
There was one pretty maiden a chewin'
tobacco
Just like a young kitten a chewin' fresh fish.

We'll rant and we'll roar
Like true Yankee Whalersmen.
We'll rant and we'll roar on deck and
below.

Until we sight Gayhead
Off old Martha's Vineyard
And straight up the channel to New Bedford we'll go.

4. Then the signal was sent for the grand ship
to anchor,
And all in the downs that night for to lie.
Let go your shank painter, let go your cat
stopper
Haul up your clew garnets, let tacks and sheets fly.

We'll rant and we'll roar
Like true Yankee Whalersmen
We'll rant and we'll roar on deck and
below

Until we sight Gayhead
Off old Martha's Vineyard
And straight up the channel to New Bedford we'll go.

Notes:

This is an American variant of the English homeward-bound capstan shanty and sea-song: Spanish Ladies. Other versions mention of different places.

Gay Head is a run of cliffs of clay located on the western-most part of the island of Martha's Vineyard, Massachusetts.

New Bedford had its heyday as a whaling station in the 19th century. Its whaling museum has a very interesting web site.

Notes on the other words

45 fathoms with a light sandy bottom - the sea-bed was 45 fathoms down and sandy.(a fathom is 6')

main yard - spar set across the main mast to support a sail

Chewing tobacco etc... this simile crops up in a number of shanties.

Shank painter - a short rope or chain by which the shank of an anchor is held fast to a ship's side when not in use and prevents the flukes from flying off the bill-board; where a bill-board is not used it bears the weight of the fluke end of the anchor.

cat stopper - a piece of rope rove through the ring of an anchor to secure it for sea.

clew - a lower corner of a square sail, to which clew lines are attached, garnet – a tackle used for hoisting in casks and provisions. It was rigged from a guy or pendant made fast to the mainmast head. In some ships it was large enough to unload cargo.

clew garnet - the tackle attached to the clew line; the clew line or tackle (of a lower square sail in a full rigged ship) by means of which the clews are hauled up to the yard. [Oxford Companion]

The sails are thus clewed up (or clued up) ready for gathering up or furling.

tacks - ropes attached to the sails and leading forward

sheets - ropes attached to the clew and leading aft

fly - when tacks and sheets "fly" they are no longer pulling on the sail; the sail spills the wind and the ship is no longer being driven by it.
